

Bending New Corners

Yeah yo, so where do we go from here ?
Let's get it on beyond manmade frontiers
And persevere like space station MIR
We got knowledge of self-determination to pierce
Interior horizons and cosmic spheres
We draw the future near like black hole pioneers
We make the dark matter appear, clear, out of the unknown
Full scale, full blown and stripped to the bone
Like a lone heart patrolling uncharted zone
I guess we're going to take a different way home
Reaching for the rainbow throne
Like a rolling stone, wherever I lay my hat
You know where it's at
Forward on, yes, back on the road, Jack
Like Kerouac I hit the track with a soul clap
And I don't backpedal and you know that
The Most High got my back, on the level, that's the cold facts
Yes, we got it like and we got to make sure we flip the next score
Another world to explore
We gather up more experience than an ex-whore
Pushing on till we're vex sore and still wanna get more
Flavors to blend, more experiments to attempt
Sonic signals to send if there is danger imminent
If there are borders to transcend, we still represent
Inventing crazy shit like a trip never ending
Bending new corners
